Who we are

Market leading solutions

InfoSec People is an award winning, boutique cyber security and IT recruitment consultancy. Experts in our field, we help our market leading clients to develop robust security postures, building teams from the top down with a consultative and considered approach.

We are ethical recruiters and believe in adding value to everything we do. We build long lasting, meaningful relationships with clients and develop a thorough understanding of their cultures and requirements.

With the success of companies fundamentally driven by the quality of their people, acquiring and retaining talent has never been more important. We believe that recruitment, executed effectively, elevates and enables a business to prosper, and that includes our own. We believe that our team are the best in the industry, and we are committed to continuous improvement, which is why we remain the best cyber technology recruiters in the UK, year after year..

Engineered Serendipity

There's no such thing as a coincidence; our extensive knowledge and far-reaching networks of industry leaders ensures that our candidates and clients are always 'in the right place at the right time.'

People don't buy what you do, they buy
why you do it.

A culture of trust

InfoSec People is built on a culture of reciprocal trust. We trust our team to take ownership of their own success stories, and the team trust that they will have all of the tools and support they need to thrive.

We are trusted to do our jobs, to ask for help when we need it and to offer help when we can add value to our colleagues. We sit down once a year and define InfoSec's roadmap, discussing where we are and where we want to be. We are a team; everybody is involved and included.

We have some amazing perks at InfoSec People, but these come as part of a great culture, not in place of it; hitting our target at the end of every quarter means we get to choose from a list of incentives like min-golf, bowling, escape rooms and more.

We believe in giving back

InfoSec are committed to positively contributing to the cyber security community. In 2016, InfoSec Founder, Chris Dunning-Walton founded Cyber Cheltenham (CyNam – www.cynam.org), a platform for Cheltenham's thriving cyber security community to collaborate, network and innovate. CyNam is now the UK's largest cyber cluster, and has gained full support from GCHQ, NCSC, DCMS and the Gloucestershire Police, as well as local government and academia with over 300 people attending headline events.

InfoSec are a Leader Level Community Partner with techSPARK within their Bristol & Bath Cyber cluster. As a not-for-profit organisation, they rely on the financial support of its community to deliver events and activities throughout the year. We directly contribute to the growth, skills development, and innovation within the cybersecurity ecosystem in Bristol and Bath.

What we want

More than just recruitment

Cheltenham is a thriving town full of exciting start ups and global tech companies. At InfoSec People we play a huge part in this community and are involved in a number of exciting initiatives which support the wider cyber technology industry.

We are affiliated with and accredited by the following organisations:

We are determined in the pursuit and development of talent, regardless of the background of the individual.

Commitment to Diversity

InfoSec is committed to the principles of equality, diversity and inclusion in both our workplace and throughout our recruitment processes. We are determined in the pursuit and development of talent, regardless of the background of the individual. We follow best practice in all of the nine different areas of equality, namely: age, gender/gender reassignment, disability, religion, ethnicity, marital status, maternal status, and sexual orientation.

While significant progress has been made with regards to gender diversity in the sector, we continue to work proactively across the diversity agenda. InfoSec employ a range of techniques to help us source diverse candidate fields for our clients. This is underpinned by a strong values-driven approach of being professional, supportive, open and honest with candidates and clients.

As part of our commitment to diversity, it is our intent to ensure that all shortlists submitted reflect diversity wherever possible.
